DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 16 and 17 are objected to because of the following informalities: The dependent claims 16 and 17 are identical claims. Either one of the claims should be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1, 14, 16-18, 20, 22-24, 26-30 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Palmeri et al. (US 5,582,558).

Palmeri et al. disclose a combined system for assisting shifting of manual transmission comprising an electronic control unit (31) for varying an actual engine fueling to achieve a zero torque by a driver's request of a torque elimination, the torque being controlled as a function of the engine fueling, and the driver easily able to shift the gear into a neutral. A manually shifted transmission (30) has an input shaft (37) driven by the engine, an output shaft (38), a yoke (40) and a collar (41) for selecting a driving ratio and neutral position. A manually operating stick shift (22) allows the driver shifting the gear along a shifting gear range pattern (Col. 7, line 51 - Col. 9, line 49).

Art Unit: 3502

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palmeri et al. (US 5,582,558) in view of Nellums et al. (US 4,874,070).

Palmeri et al. disclose a combined system for assisting shifting of manual transmission as mentioned above in paragraph 3, but do not disclose an engine fueling for a time period upon sensing a throttle pedal position. Nellums et al. disclose a fuel control device (26) for controlling an amount of fuel to be supplied to an engine for a period time depending on a sensing signal of a throttle pedal position and an engine rotation speed (Col. 3, lines 11-51) in a control for AMT system start from stop operation. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Palmeri et al. by providing a fuel control device for controlling the amount of fuel supplied to an engine in view of Nellums et al. for the smooth gear shifting by controlling the engine torque when a vehicle starts or stops.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-5, 7, 9-13, 15, 19, 21, 25, 31-32 and 34 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
